25X1 [ ] Comment. The loading performance increased slightly with 743,273 cars loaded in February (28 days) against 792,333 cars loaded in January (31 days). [ ] This increase was probably for seasonal reasons.

25X1 [ ] Comment. As compared with January, fewer cars were loaded with fertilizers, construction materials, lumber, raw materials, potatoes, sugar-beets, fodder, piece goods and miscellaneous goods, while an increased number of cars was loaded for the occupation forces, with fruit and vegetables, sugar and livestock. The increase of the number of cars loaded for the occupation forces was 150 percent and, as observed in previous years, was for seasonal reasons.
